

Privacy and Communications Policy

This Privacy and Communications Policy ("Policy") is effective as of 11-28-2016.

This Policy sets forth how New Millennium Medical, Ltd., a corporation organized under the laws of Illinois, USA ("we" or "us"), collects and uses the information provided to us and certain other information that we automatically collect through your access and use of www.newmillenniummedical.com ("Website"), including through your use of our New Patient Intake form, or through any communications between you and us. YOU ACKNOWLEDGE AND AGREE THAT BY USING ANY PORTION OF THIS WEBSITE, SUCH USE SHALL INDICATE THAT YOU HAVE READ, UNDERSTAND AND THAT YOU AGREE TO OUR COLLECTION AND USE OF THE INFORMATION PROVIDED BY YOU OR AUTOMATICALLY COLLECTED BY US, AS SET FORTH IN THIS POLICY.

"YOU", WHERE APPROPRIATE, ALSO REFERS TO THE ORGANIZATION THAT THAT YOU, AS AN EMPLOYEE, OR, OTHERWISE AS AN AGENT, ARE ACTING ON BEHALF OF WHEN USING OUR WEBSITE AS A REGISTERED USER OR OTHERWISE.

If you have any general questions or concerns about this Policy, you may contact us by sending an email with your questions, comments or concerns to support@newmillenniummedical.com.

How We Collect Personally Identifiable Information From You

There are a variety of ways in which you may submit certain personal information (personally identifiable information) on this Website. We collect the following specific items of personal information (collectively "Identity Information") that you submit through your use of this Website: your individual first and last name, your phone number, address and your email address and the medical information you submit via our New Patient Intake form, which is hosted by our third-party partner on their website (www.chirotouch.com).

Personal Information from Individuals Under 18

Anyone under the age of 18 is expressly prohibited from submitting or posting any Identity Information on this Website. Further, we do not knowingly collect information from children under the age of 13 and do not intend that any materials contained on this Website are directed to or targeted towards children under the age of 13. If it does come to our attention that any child under the age of 13 has submitted any personal information to this Website, we will delete all such information that we have collected immediately. If you are a parent or guardian and you discover that your child under the age of 13 has submitted any of his or her Identity Information without your permission or consent, we will remove the information immediately upon your request. All requests should be made by email and sent to support@newmillennium.com. Please include your child's name and a description of the type of information you think he or she may have submitted to this Website.

Website Forms

When you provide any Identity Information through our contact us form contained on this Website, or anything personal information and medical history you submit through our New Patient Intake form, we collect and store this information. We use your email or any other Identity Information you provide as expressly set forth in this Policy.

How We Automatically Collect Non-Personal Information

When you access our Website, we collect and store certain non-personally identifying information sent automatically by your browser using standard web server logs and automatic data collection tools such as direct and third-party cookies and web beacons. This information includes your IP address, which may tell us your general location information such as your country and sometimes your city, state and/or zip code, the domain name from which you access our Website, your browser type and language, the pages you access, the date and time you access pages on our Website and your operating system version. We also may determine what technology is available through your browser in order to provide you with the most appropriate version of any of our web pages. For example, we may determine that you have installed a version of Flash, and we will then send you the appropriate Flash version of the web page rather than an HTML page. We may also use this information to redirect you to a different version of our Website if you are accessing our Website through a mobile or similar device.

We may collect device-specific information about your mobile and other devices such as the type of device you are using, any unique device identifiers, mobile network information including phone numbers, device model, manufacturer, screen resolution, device capabilities, service provider, preferred user language and your page views. We do this to help us determine which aspects of the website work best for mobile traffic and which mobile marketing campaigns work best for the business, including mobile advertising, mobile search marketing, text campaigns, and desktop promotion of mobile sites and services.

Our Use of "Cookies" and Other Data Collection Tools

We may monitor your use of this Website through the use of any automatic data collection tools, such as cookies, beacons, tags, local shared objects such as Flash LSO and HTML5 and scripts, and you consent to our use of these tools when you use and access our Website. When you use our Website, we use session cookies and/or other automatic data collection tools to identify and recognize your browser as a previous visitor to our Website in order to save your log-in information and any account/user preferences that may have been set by you. We may, along with our marketing partners, affiliates, analytics providers, or customer support providers use these technologies to analyze trends, administer the website, tracking your movements around the website, and to gather demographic information about our user-base as a whole. We may receive reports based on the use of these technologies by these companies on an individual and aggregated basis.

We use cookies to remember user settings, and for user authentication. The cookies shall only be used to obtain non-personal information to improve your online experience. No other information is stored in these cookies. You can control the use of cookies at the individual browser level. If you reject cookies, you may still use our website, but your ability to use some features or areas of our website may be limited. Various browsers may offer their own management tools for removing HTML5. To manage Flash cookies, please visit http://www.macromedia.com/support/documentation/en/flashplayer/help/settings_manager07.html. We use cookies and/or web beacons to track and record all of our Website visitors Website use and activity data, including the pages viewed, duration spent on each page or portion of our Website, the links clicked on, the features of this Website accessed, new vs. repeat visitors or in order to monitor interactions with any video or other content that you access on this Website ("Use Information"). Finally, we may also use imbedded web links or page pixels in emails which allow us to determine whether you have clicked a link in an email we have sent to you and this information may then be connected to some of your Identity Information you have previously provided. (We do this to understand whether users read email messages and click on links contained within those messages so that we can deliver relevant content and/or product offers).

We use both session cookies, which do not stay on your browser after you exit this Website, and persistent cookies, which remain on your computer until you delete them or they expire. We reserve the right to monitor your use of this Website through the use of any automatic data collection tools at all times and you consent to our use of these tools when you use and access our Website.

Our Use of Third-Party Cookies

We may use and we reserve the right to use third party web analytics services, such as Google Analytics or similar such services by other third-party providers, in order to collect information about your use of this Website. In order to provide such services, these third parties typically pass cookies directly onto your browser when you use this Website ("third party cookies"). These third party providers may also transfer this information to other third parties by law or in order to help provide their services. All information collected directly by use of any third party cookies is non-Identity Information and relates only to how you use and interact with this Website. The use of third party cookies is not covered by our privacy policy and we do not have access or control over these cookies.

We may use third-party cookies and other tracking tools to track whether or not you have visited our website by clicking on any links contained on one or more of any Facebook fan pages/posts we operate. We collect and store this information for internal analysis only.

Tracking Cookies

We may place ads on third-party websites belonging to any of our cross-marketing partners, affiliates or advertising partners, etc. We collect and store information regarding which of these websites you visit by using cookies and similar detection tools that identify you uniquely. Each time you visit our site, we use a code or pixel that drops an anonymous browser cookie. Later, when you browse the Internet, the cookie will let our ad retargeting provider know when to serve ads to you, ensuring that our ads are served to only to people who have previously visited our site.

OUR OPT-OUT POLICY

We have created mechanisms to provide you with the ability to both control the information that you submit through your use of this Website and from opt-out of receiving the following over your information:

Cookies. Many web browsers automatically accept cookies, but most browsers will tell you how to stop accepting new cookies, how to be notified when you receive a new cookie, and how to disable existing cookies. If you choose to disable cookies, please note that some parts of our site may not function as effectively or may be considerably slower.

Information and Offers. If, at any time after registering for information or ordering any branded merchandise, you change your mind about receiving any information from us or about our use of information submitted by you, you can opt-out by emailing us your request at support@newmillenniummedical.com. If you would like to opt-out of marketing or promotional emails, please either click “unsubscribe” in the body of the email communication, or send an email to support@newmillenniummedical.com to be removed.

Targeted Advertising. If You do not want us to use information that we collect or that you provide to us to deliver advertisements according to our advertisers’ target-audience preferences, you can opt-out by sending us an email stating your request to support@newmillenniummedical.com with the words “Information Opt-out” in the subject line. For this opt-out to function, you must have your browser set to accept browser cookies. We do not control third parties’ collection or use of your information to serve Interest-based advertising. However, these third parties may provide you with ways to choose not to have your information collected or used in this way. You can opt out of receiving targeted ads from members of the Network Advertising Initiative (“NAI”) on the NAI’s website. Once we receive your request, we will immediately cease sharing your information in the manner stated above.

How We Use and Share Your Personal Information

Promotional & Informational Use of Emails

We will NOT share your email with any third party. We will only use your email to contact you in relation to your care with our practice. However, we reserve the right to on occasion use the e-mail address provided by you to send periodic promotional e-mails to you about our services, but only if you have elected to receive such email communications from us.
